Design and development plans for the new Teen Space at the Central Library continued to move forward. The allocated space will double in size from the current area and contains unique features proven successful in other recently renovated libraries. We sponsored teen groups to meet with the architects to provide input on the final designs. A Space Use Review Team was formed to design a dynamic service model to better serve the teen users in the new space. The final designs are completed, and construction begins in the Spring of 2019. The Foundation has committed $600,000 toward the $1.8 million needed for the first phase of the Central Improvements Project.

events featuring books, library staff and volunteers to childcare centers and development centers. The project now serves 8 outreach sites or 439 children ages 2-4 in 20 classrooms, an increase from 7 locations and 18 classes in 2017. Reaching primarily underserved children, volunteers visit sites once or twice a month. In addition to regular visits children at Head Start(3 locations), Berkeley Unified School District Early Childhood Development Centers(3 locations), La Academia de Bahia and Centro Vida receive free books annually. Readers and their families are invited to participate in other special literacy events such as Head Start's "Daddy and Me" day. While the focus of the project is children, parents and childcare workers also receive information about the family and adult literacy services available through the Library. The project has an extensive waiting list and plans

The BPLF provided support for "The Commons," a redesign of an underutilized space at the Central Library. The space adds flexibility for programming, comfort for patrons, and provides 40 new places for people to sit, work, study or do group projects.

Bridging the technology gap is an essential function of the library. BPLF funded the purchase of a laptop lending machine that is now located near the new "Commons." Our grants support the new furniture and fixtures not covered by library budget.

Form 990, Part III, Line 1 - Organization Mission

The Berkeley Public Library Foundation amplifies the public investment to make a great public library extraordinary. We work with the community to help build and refurbish library buildings, provide resources to advance literacy in all its forms, and support innovations that keep our library creative, flexible, and ready to serve the diverse and changing needs of our community. We join with others to advocate for the well-being of public libraries everywhere.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4d - Other Program Services Description

"Building A Culture of Innovation" was the focus of a staff leadership training and project development opportunity funded by the BPLF. Twenty librarians attended the LUMA Institute training. They practiced "design thinking" and gained project development skills to aid in the creation of projects based on librarian interests in serving the public. A grant of $35,000 from our designated innovation fund went to support the training, and to seed, librarian-led projects.

Our 16th Annual Authors Dinner was held in February 2018. Over 350 people attended this gala event that transforms the Historic Reading Room at the Central Library into an elegant dining room and literary salon for one night. This early sell-out event functions both as a fundraiser and community program to celebrate the rich literary tradition of Berkeley and the Bay Area. Twenty-nine authors were honored with author Jane Smiley serving as the Honorary Chair. A major matching grant from the Saul Zaentz Charitable Foundation served as a catalyst for record level giving at the event in support of the library.

In October 2017 the Foundation hosted "Tools & Tapas" an event held at the Tarea Hall Pittman South Branch featuring Berkeley's popular Tool Lending Library and the leadership of 26-year veteran Tool Lending Librarian Adam Broner, also contributing author of the book Audio Recorders to Zucchini Seeds: Building a Library of Things.

The BPLF outfitted the Claremont, West and Central Branch libraries with 3 new Portable Interactive Video Display Monitors. These self-contained audiovisual systems are perfect for libraries with limited space. They are easy to use and store and already proving to be wildly popular. The experiences of children and teens are being enhanced in new and exciting ways. Patrons tell us they "love it." Staff meetings are being enlivened, and librarians are being inspired to incorporate new programming.
